

GROW A FOREST

Thank you for choosing to regenerate degraded forest land in the Northern Western Ghats by helping us develop our nurseries of important indigenous tree species.

These tiny saplings will eventually grow up to support myriad species and contribute to making the biodiversity of the region robust and resilient to the challenges of the future.

The cost of growing and nurturing saplings for 1 acre of forest land for 1 year while they are in our nursery is INR 20000. You can choose to grow 1 or more acres of forest land!

Please write to us at the following email address with your name and address and we will guide you on how to make the donation.
(All donations are eligible for tax exemption under section 80G of the Income Tax Act 1961)
